If you decide you want to receive the newsletter by e-mail, please be advised that when it is sent it will show that it is coming from MrMrsPDG.

FLAG ETIQUETTE:

Since the Fourth Degree is the Patriotic Order, I thought it would be appropriate to print a series of "articles" on flag etiquette, and since it is the middle of the parade season, the first article will be on Parade and ceremonies etiquette.

Parades, Ceremonies

The flag, when carried in a procession or with another flag or flags should be either on the marching right (No. 1); that is, the flag's own right, or, if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line. (No. 2).

A father was approached by his small son who told him proudly, "I know what the bible means!" His father smiled and replied, "What do you mean, you 'know' what the Bible means?" The son replied, "I do know!" "Okay," said his father. "What does the bible mean?" "That's easy, Daddy." The young boy replied excitedly, "It stands for 'Basic Information Before Leaving Earth.'"

The prospective father-in-law asked, "Young man, can you support a family?" The surprised groom-to-be replied, "Well, no. I was just planning to support your daughter. The rest of you will have to fend for yourselves."

The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff (or as against a wall or in a window).

The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument. But it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.

That no disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America, the flag should not be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags, and organization or institutional flags are to be dipped as a mark of honor.

The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all persons present except those in uniform should face the flag and stand at attention with the right hand over the heart. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Aliens should stand at attention. The salute to the flag in a moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.
